Mia: delivers spoken report:

Last month three main priority areas

- 1- Sexual harm response, really good wins, meeting with Sarah Lachlan disclosed revised draft for reporting form, Draft pretty bad and send 6 pages of notes
- 2- Proud of, funding for two different case managers who are doing full time work for sexual harm. Speaks to 2022 motion to SPA and sexual harm response, really proud to see SSAF committee to this. Three news roles (two people full time on managing sexual harm complaints to UTS because system is 'really bad') based on what La Trobe and Monash already have. Obviously first step but there are "now people paid to do that work not students finding out how hard it is due to experience". Promoting that as well so people know where to go to.

Other little things: financial assistance, opal concession campaign. Lots of engineering and IT students have come to me with particular bad reports. Undergraduate tutors and the low standard, opens offer to councillors.

- 3- Campaign for Palestine, want to share that yesterday I got a response to SCLG paper I put up in February. Didn't address actual concerns in the paper, didn't mention Israel, didn't mention Thales, didn't mention any examples in paper. Unsure whether that is the complete response. Hoping there is more in writing that goes with it. "really fails to grasp anything that any of us are talking about" speaks to need to address companies "partnering in genocide". Speak to motion 8.7. To work on methods (for campaigning) at the working bee.
- 4- Extra 91K at SSAF committee going towards welfare (bluebird brekkie and cooking classes partnering with OZ Harvest). Pay for employees
- 5- Vice chancellor made commentary about the conflict "if you want to call it a conflict" being worked in SCLG, "it's all been very vague" "the indicator of what UTS is willing to do will be next Tuesday

5.2 General Secretary

For a month where many of us has been quite preoccupied with exams and major assessment tasks, we still had a generally successful month, with much more work still to be done.

- 1- Budget: This month, various student representatives from the UTSSA, including myself, attended the National Union of Students Protest on Budget Day in Canberra outside Parliament house. Whilst pretty weak in many areas, this year's budget contained considerable detail for students compared to previous budgets under Albanese's government. HECS indexation reforms and $319 and week paid placements are modest starts to much larger issues effecting the Universities sector in Australia we at the UTSSA hope to see further action on under this government. Investments in 'purpose built' student accommodation and the announcement of a Higher Education Gender-Based Code are other particular highlights for students. I am also cautiously optimistic about the announced 40% SSAF requirements towards student organisations and what impact this will have on the future of the UTSSA beyond my term.

- 2- Palestine Activism: This month we have begun to gear up for more Palestine activism at the UTSSA. From attendance at the Usyd encampment by UTSSA Representatives, to events held at our own campus, we have increased participation in this movement which has swept across university campuses in Australia and globally. We hope to do more however, and I hope that as a start we will be able to pass motion 8.7 unanimously this meeting and formulate a quality statement for our goals and objectives in the future of this campaign.

5.3 Assistant General Secretary

With the commencement of exam season marking the fast approach end to semester, student activity has slowed down. The UTSSA's digital presence has, however, remained active.

During the month of May, I have worked on the following projects.

Get to know your Students Association – social media series

(ONGOING:

This has been a semester-long social media campaign that has familiarised students with whom their student representatives are. The series has increased the UTSSA's Instagram and Facebook pages metrics and overall viewership.

We are approaching the end of this social media campaign and are looking to do something similar next semester. If you have any ideas, please reach out!

Student feedback campaign:

The student feedback posters have been plastered in bathrooms across campus buildings. We have received responses but would love it if you could raise this in conversation with fellow peers too!

Once we collate responses, we will report back to the SRC in order to provide the UTSSA with greater direction about the issues we should focus on.

Concession opal card campaign (ONGOING):

Earlier this month I published an article to the UTSSA website following up on the transport concession campaign. It detailed the response received from Jo Haylen, Minister for Transport and included three testimonials from international students about their burdensome daily commute.

This was supplemented with an Instagram post with the above information.

The purpose of this article was to keep students updated following the petition in March.

Financial Assistance:

This week I worked on uploading a carousel post that promoted the various ways UTS provides financial assistance to students. They currently are offering financial assistance gift cards for opal cards and food. Students can book an appointment with Financial Assistance through Student Services reception. This service is especially important as students battle with cost-of-living pressures. You can find more information about UTS financial help here: <https://www.uts.edu.au/current-students/support/financial-help/financial-assistance-programs>

Taken as read- Bridie speaks to what Mia said about disappointing response from Jo Haylen which was supplemented by student testimony.

5.5 Welfare officer

As the autumn semester for 2024 comes to an end students are well underway with studies and preparation for their exams. This month as the welfare officer I was able to take part in a program run by the centre for social justice and inclusion. It is an ongoing project apart of the UTS Cultural Diversity and Anti-Racism action plan to help diversify how the acknowledgment of country is delivered at UTS by having students of non-English speaking background record the acknowledgment. As someone from an immigrant background I am fortunate enough to know another language, being Turkish, and assist in this great initiative. I believe this program provides a practical resource to UTS and celebrates everyone's mother tongue by recognising that Australia is a multicultural nation with a rich indigenous history. I was also a part of the partner project application grant panel, which is the first time that this has been done at UTS to provide funds to students looking to research and better the culture at our university. Ultimately, this month has gone well for the collective by being able to take part in projects run by other organisations to ensure the well-being of students on campus.

5.6 Women's officer

Report received after deadline, not included on notice.

Past Events/ Initiatives Summary:

Throughout the month of May these events and initiatives were undertaken:

1. Planning a free period product marketing campaign that will be released in order to keep supplying UTS students in free period products in the bathroom.
2. Conducting an interview with the UTS soul team in order to see how we can best empower students.
3. Meetings/communication with the organisation Respect Now Always (RNA) to work on further collaborative events and campaigns.

4. Making a submission to the Law Reform Commission into justice responses to sexual violence.

Upcoming Events and Initiatives:

1. A feminist movie night in collaboration with RNA
2. The period product campaign
3. Further collaboration with one of the guest speakers on the women in media panel to host an event on tips and tricks for women to excel in their professional lives

Tasks that the collective will be doing next month:

- Membership outreach programs: since WOCO has over 400 members and relatively high engagement on social media we hope to utilise that further.

- Further collaborations with other societies, perhaps even an intervarsity event between women collectives.

- Planning further events for semester two.

Mariam: Speaks to work with RNA throughout past semester- two upcoming events (feminist movie night). Speaks to getting uninformed people active in RNA. Wrote a submission against Sa/SH on campus. "many committees and not much action". Free period products scheme delayed due to busyness. Speaks to survey to be circulated.

5.7 International students officer

Overview

This month has been particularly significant for international students at UTS due to recent changes in visa regulations and ongoing advocacy efforts. The following report outlines key activities and initiatives undertaken to address these challenges and support our international student community.

Early Release of Results for Affected Students

Due to recent changes to the 485 visa, many international students have been impacted, particularly those close to graduation. In response, we held a meeting with UTS management to discuss measures to support these students. The primary outcome of this meeting was an agreement from UTS to expedite the release of final results for students graduating this semester. UTS management has begun the process of identifying affected students and is working closely with faculty members to ensure their results are processed and released as soon as possible. This step will enable students to apply for the 485 visa with old requirements without unnecessary delays, thereby facilitating a fast visa application done before 1 July.

Petition for Transition Period on 485 Visa

In light of the changes to the 485 visa regulations, which now impose an age limit of 35 years, a petition has been initiated to request a transition period for current students who are above this age limit. As of 26 May 2024, the petition has gained over 9200+ signatures from international students across various Australian universities. This strong response highlights the widespread concern and the critical need for a transition period that would allow affected students to apply for the 485 visa under the previous criteria. The petition is submitted to the federal government, aiming to secure a fair transition period for all current students affected by these changes.

Meeting with NSW Senator Tony Sheldon

I, along with Sabrina, had a great meeting with NSW Senator Tony Sheldon to discuss the exploitation of international students in the Australian job market. This issue has become increasingly important, particularly within the gig economy, where many international students find employment. Our discussion focused on the need for stronger policies and protections to prevent exploitation and ensure fair treatment of international students.

As a result of this meeting, we have agreed to conduct a comprehensive survey and further research into this issue. The survey will target international students currently employed in various sectors, particularly gig economy roles, to gather data on their experiences and challenges. The findings will be used to advocate for policy changes and the implementation of protective measures at both the state and federal levels. This initiative aims to enhance the working conditions and rights of international students, thereby improving their overall experience and well-being while studying in Australia.

Conclusion

This month has been marked by significant advocacy and support efforts for international students at UTS. The early release of results for graduating students and the petition for a transition period on the 485 visa are crucial steps in addressing the immediate needs of our International student community. Additionally, our ongoing dialogue with policymakers, such as Senator Tony Sheldon, and the planned research into student exploitation, demonstrate our commitment to long-term improvements in the treatment and welfare of international students.

Moving forward, we will continue to monitor the implementation of these initiatives and actively engage with stakeholders to ensure that the rights and needs of international students are Prioritise and addressed effectively.

Raghav speaks to report: Quite busy two weeks. Student VISA from 55 to 35. Apply to all universities across Australia, yesterday government changes yesterday. UTS started to identify students, Meeting with DVC and vice chancellor for students, figuring out how changes can be done but “federal government not that keen, mixing housing crisis into account”. For students we need results to be prioritised. Meeting with senator, wanting to understand how international students are exploited in various areas of employment. Attached to the issue of gig economy and the exploitation of international students in the sector. Not in the report, next coming weeks all coming from different unis, having meeting to form separate international orgs into one collective. After opal concession understands that for international students some changes Aus Government not willing to do. “There needs to be separate way to work it out or the government is not going to look into it”.

Mia thanks Raghav for report, if any students have any issues on Visa changes bring it to us, some students are really in strife for students over 35 and difficulties graduating. Mia commends Raghav for going to DVC and applying changes to not only postgrad but also undergrad. But some students still to be struggling after these changes, cutting out hundreds of students not covered by changes.

5.9 Postgraduate students officer

Report received after deadline

Not much to update from last month, still organising to set meetings with Postgraduate Business school based on feedback by students, as well as reaching out to Postgraduate Law school when uni starts back again.

Some initiatives for weeks to come:

- Organising some events with new members of the collective this year
- Finding organised events liaising with HDR committee to put our funding into good use and help students in need
- Reaching out to coordinators to organise workshops that are useful for postgrad students across different faculties
- Organising better communication platforms for stipend and scholarship information for students as it is a major issue right now especially in the research faculty
- Building collaborations and partnerships with other universities and reaching out to other postgrad officers, have done this with a couple

2. 20/05 | Sustainability Steering Committee (SSC)

a. At the second quarterly SSC meeting of the year, members and attendees discussed topics that are of key interest to the Enviro Collective and the SRC.

This includes:

i. Frances Flanagan’s address on UTS and other universities’ ties with fossil fuel corporations. She outlined what relationship UTS has with such firms (very little) and what could be done to build on this impressive record. Flanagan’s work on fossil fuel partnerships could be built upon in other areas of partnership and investment that UTS has with other firms not aligned with student values.

ii. UTS Sustainability has released the Sustainability Impact Dashboard, which is now live, making UTS among the first of Australian universities to publicly release such data in this way.

iii. Support among UTS staff on the SSC particularly Sustainability Lead Danielle McCartney, COO/VP of UTS Glen Babington and Professor in production economics Paul Brown for the Borrow Cup Start Up. Support from academics and executives like those mentioned above will be crucial for a future campaign.

8.1 By-Law change

Preamble:

If approved during the May 2024 SRC, the following bylaw change will require Collective Office Bearers to disclose any spending partaken by their corresponding Collective in their Office Bearer report from the following meeting (June 2024). This change attempts to make it easier for UTSSA Executive and staff to manage financials for collectives, whilst simultaneously respecting the confidentiality of any autonomous collective which does not wish to disclose their full meeting minutes with the SRC.

If approved, these bylaw changes will bring-forth additional transparency only and will not entitle The UTSSA Executive or any student representative to any extra authority for decision-making over Collectives. Spending disclosed by a Collective, undertaken in line with the UTSSA's governing documents, is to be respected by UTSSA representatives; and not be taken to any subsequent vote during SRC. Any misappropriated or improper expenses will as-per-usual be dealt with in accordance with pre-existing measures in the UTSSA bylaws or constitution.

Action:

1. That Schedule 2 section 9.7 of the UTSSA bylaws titled 'Fundraising or levying fees', be relocated to an additional section 9.8 in section 2.
2. That the UTSSA insert section 9.7 into Schedule 2 of the UTSSA bylaws: 'Any spending approved by a collective must be disclosed in the report of the responsible Office Bearer at the next SRC meeting after approval'.

8.7 UTS Campaign for Palestine

Original motion on notice

Preamble:

The images coming out of Gaza this week have formed some of the most horrific and shocking documentations of the genocide in Palestine in the past eight months. The continuous human rights violations and mass killings committed by the Israeli government towards innocent Palestinian civilians has been recognised as an “unfolding catastrophe” by United Nations General Secretary, Antonio Guterres. Despite the International Court of Justice on the 26th of January declaring a plausible risk of genocide in Gaza, and ordering on the 24th of May 2024 for Israel to stop its military offensive inside Rafah, Israel has not complied. This has resulted in a death toll of approximately 35,000 people, a majority being women and children. The death toll in Gaza continues to climb at a rate faster than any other 21st century conflict, as Israel relentlessly and indiscriminately bombs civilians, uses famine as a weapon of war and blocks humanitarian aid.

As an activist organisation, the UTSSA recognises the serious violations of international law that are being committed in Gaza and the occupied Palestinian territories and urges the Australian Labor government to use their voice on the international stage and call for the arrest of Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu in accordance with the International Criminal Court.

The UTSSA reaffirms its Statement on Palestine from the 15th of November 2023, and calls on all students and young people in this country to demand a stop to the genocide of Palestinians in Gaza and the West Bank. As a student union with a proud history of anti-war organising and involvement in the global pursuit of social and political justice, the UTSSA stands in solidarity with all those affected by this genocidal regime, including the students at universities around the world who have been subject to disciplinary action for protesting the genocidal regime of the Israeli government. The UTSSA will continue to advocate for UTS to take a strong stance against the Israeli government's genocidal regime, including by disclosing and divesting all relationships between UTS and Israel.

Action:

- 1-That the UTSSA post the above preamble statement on its social media platforms.
- 2- That the UTSSA establish an official campaign for Palestine, demanding from UTS:
 - a. Complete disclosure of all relationships between UTS and Israel.
 - b. Complete divestment from all relationships between UTS and Israel.
 - c. Publicly call for an immediate and permanent ceasefire, and condemn the Israeli government's occupation, apartheid and genocide in Palestine.
- 3-That the UTSSA approves an upper spending limit of $500 for promotional materials for this campaign.

Mia: speaks to approving official campaign for Palestine. Mia speaks to the eternal work being done on this. "High time to start a public campaign on this". "I'm going to put this up, even though it's not going to be contentious". Mia speaks to wanting to have councillors be on the same page and amend sections of the preamble to be posted as a statement.

Mia: second part of motion is about actually goals, wondering about wording on this. As a motion we will have a set budget, but if anyone is uncomfortable about that we can speak to it more.

Adam: asks whether budget will come out of marketing or education budget or somewhere else

Mia: I assume marketing and various collectives

Biljana: a collective would have to pass it, I would recommend you allocate who determine where that money will be spent.

Adam: I think executive would be able to decide.

Mia: if its approved now I can decide, but I am open to changing it to executive.

Raises amendment to insert into Action point 3,
"The breakdown of which to be determined by executive at a future meeting"

Mover: Mathew

Seconder (to amendment): Aylin

No Abstentions or dissent: Amendment passes

Mia: proposes that future amendments to preamble be collated to the end of the discussion and moved on block

Mia, opens one minute speaking time

Aylin: asks what it will be spent on

Mia: poster, painting, the reason why motion so vague is because we haven't decided, but it will be for material expenses

Mover waves speaking rights.

Neeve: can we do advertisements on social media?

Adam: Meta is quite strict on advertising. This likely isn't possible

Yasmine: good that students association is taking account and UTS having connections to companies such as Thales. Seen hundreds of UTS at student strike for Palestine and at weekend rally. What's happening at Sydney uni shows it needs to happen on campus as well.

One thing in terms of wording is something about current Labor government complicity in genocide.

Adam: change wording to be included in final amendments

Dirk: is it just UTS or do we have funding for initiatives in Gaza

Mia: It should be better if its targeted

Dirk: speaks to international students worried about visa, and that events outside of uni such as small businesses more accessible for international students

Mia: there are some people who won't be able to put themselves on the line at risk of deportation,

Ty: does this count activate?

Mia: Activate is its own legal entity, they are not binding to this, any wider changes would be UTS management as a corporate entity. We can definitely include something about activate and clubs. Clubs might be an easier win to get as well.

Bilajna: clubs have a lot of sponsors, and they probably fall into unethical

Mia: speaks to SCLG to circulate statement with UTS staff for Palestine, pending what happens in that meeting, if staff and management make a commitment I will be open to not adopting this is they agree to make changes. After that I will send out details of working group to everyone.

Working group will focus on logistically approving goals today.

Neeve: Speaks to coalition making Visa changes, asks for mention of international students and protections to them for speaking their voice

Mia: good consideration we have higher international students than many others, we have many students who would be put at risk in a campaign like this.

7:47pm: Daewah leaves room, proxies to Mathew: Mathew Accepts

Rahgav: thanks the UTSSA for considering international students within this motion

Collated Amendments

Insert to preamble: "That the UTSSA condemns State and territory Labor governments across Australia for their ongoing refusal to meaningfully act on the genocide in Gaza"

Insert to preamble: “This also includes, but is not limited to, international students facing residency and visa concerns due to their commitment to solidarity. The UTSSA recognises the potential risks that may arise as a result of international students participating, and does not expect these students to put their livelihoods or greater education on the line in pursuit of this campaign”

Remove: “'s” from action point

Insert into preamble: “and the Israeli defence minister Yoav Gallant”

Changes amendable to Mover: Mathew approves all amendments.

Motion as amended now reads

The images coming out of Gaza this past week have formed some of the most horrific and shocking documentations of the genocide in Palestine in the past eight months. The continuous human rights violations and mass killings committed by the Israeli government towards innocent Palestinian civilians has been recognised as an “unfolding catastrophe” by United Nations General Secretary Antonino Guterres.

The UTSSA reaffirms its Statement on Palestine from the 15th of November 2023, and calls on all students and young people in this country to demand a stop to the genocide of Palestinians in Gaza and the West Bank.

As a student union with a proud history of anti-war organising and involvement in the global pursuit of social and political justice, the UTSSA stands in solidarity with all those affected by this genocidal regime, including the students at universities around the world who have been subject to disciplinary action for protesting the genocide regime of The Israeli government. The UTSSA will continue to advocate for UTS to take a strong stance against the Israeli government's genocidal regime, including by disclosing and divesting from all Israeli institutions.

Aylin: speaks to adding rules to UTSSA and Collective spaces.

Bilvika: speaks to general things added to the motion such as improper use of spaces and potential removal, good to have enforceability there

Mia: speaks to “changes to vertigo spaces but just general” we don’t have the queer collective room due to request. Accountability measures for SRC to prevent people from changing spaces, changes will happen at SRC.

Lily: asks who grants authorisation for to who brings people into the room

Mia: the way that it works is if you’re part of the collective, then you send through your details to Mariah who sends them security. To continue to use these spaces we have to have security. Swipe access also gives us data as to how people use these spaces.

Mathew: autonomous groups aren’t difficult to access, you just need to get in touch

Mia: identify as part of that group

Lily: then how do you sign up

Mia: sign up portals,

3.5.6 from “simple majority” to “absolute majority”

Mover: Aylin

Secunder: Neeve

Motion passes without dissent

9. General business
